COVID-19 SUMMARY

Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19)

On 03/02/20 at 0700 hours, the Cal OES State Operations Center (SOC) activated in support of the California Department of Public Health (CDPH) Medical Health Coordination Center's (MHCC) statewide response to COVID-19. Cal OES will continue to provide resource coordination for the COVID-19 event, as well as situation status reporting and advance planning across multiple areas.

SMARTER Plan

On 02/17/22, Governor Newsom unveiled the "California SMARTER Plan: The Next Phase of California's COVID-19 Response". The plan emphasizes continued readiness, awareness and flexibility and helps ensure California can maintain its focus on communities that continue to be disproportionately impacted and stay prepared to swiftly and effectively respond to emerging COVID-19 variants and changing conditions.

WEATHER KEY POINTS

03/27/22 - 04/02/22

Sunday - Tuesday

- Very warm temperatures will persist statewide through Sunday, before cooling off for the beginning of the work week
- An approaching storm system will bring widespread rain and mountain snow Sunday evening through Monday night, with lingering showers possible on Tuesday
 - Thunderstorms are possible across central and southern California Sunday evening through Monday night, which could produce hail and heavy rainfall
 - Minor flooding and localized rockslides could develop under the heaviest rainfall, with the biggest threat of flooding in poorly drained locations
 - Primarily beneficial rain is the most likely scenario, but if the heaviest rainfall passes directly over recent burn scars, flooding and debris flows are possible as a worst case scenario
 - This worst case threat includes the Colorado and Dolan burn scars in Monterey County Sunday night through Monday morning, as well as across southern California burn scars Monday through Monday night
 - The heaviest snowfall is expected to remain above 6000 feet, but snow levels may drop down to 4500 ft on Monday in heavier showers
 - Mountain travel will be impacted by accumulating snowfall, primarily along higher mountain passes and roadways
 - Gusty winds are expected across much of the state Sunday, then shifting into central and southern California on Monday, with minor damage and impacts to transportation possible

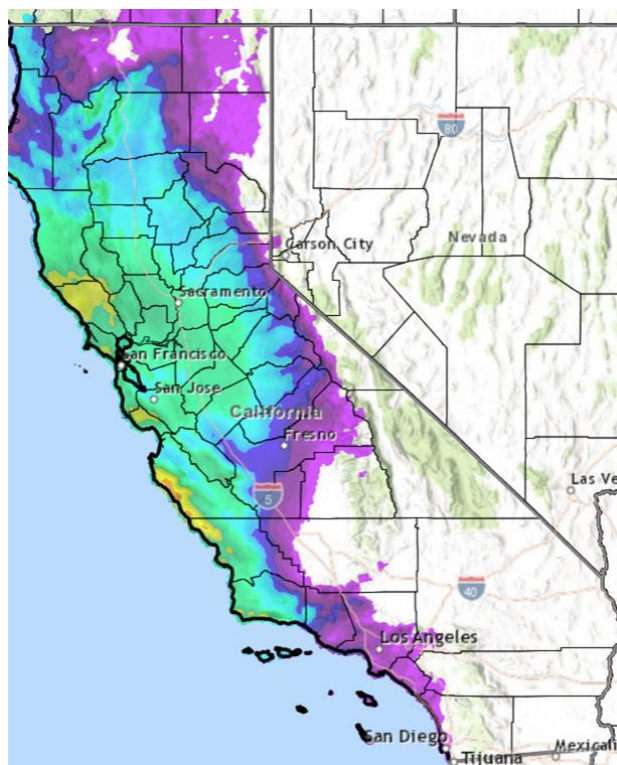

Wednesday - Saturday

- Other than a few very light showers possible at times across southern California, warmer and drier conditions will generally return by mid-week and persist through the end of the week
- Gusty northerly winds on Thursday could lead to some fire weather concerns, especially in portions of Inland Region

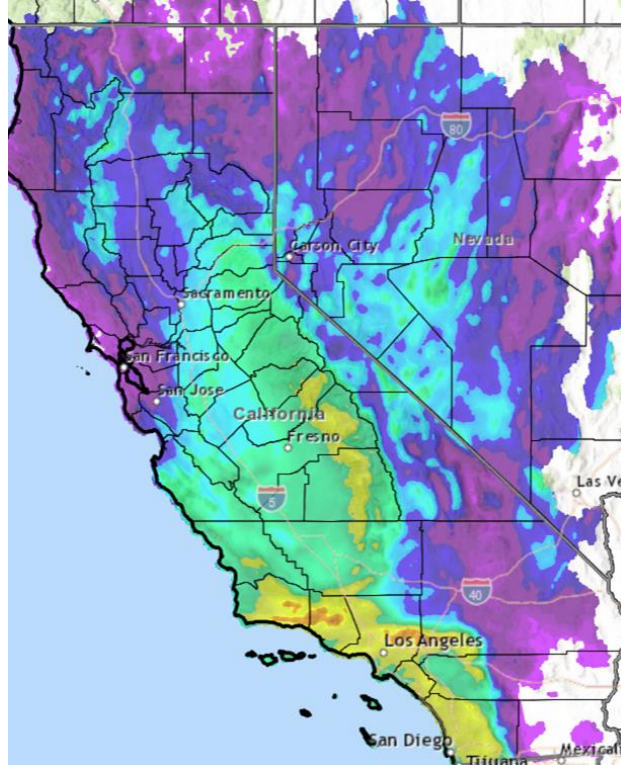

PRECIPITATION FORECAST

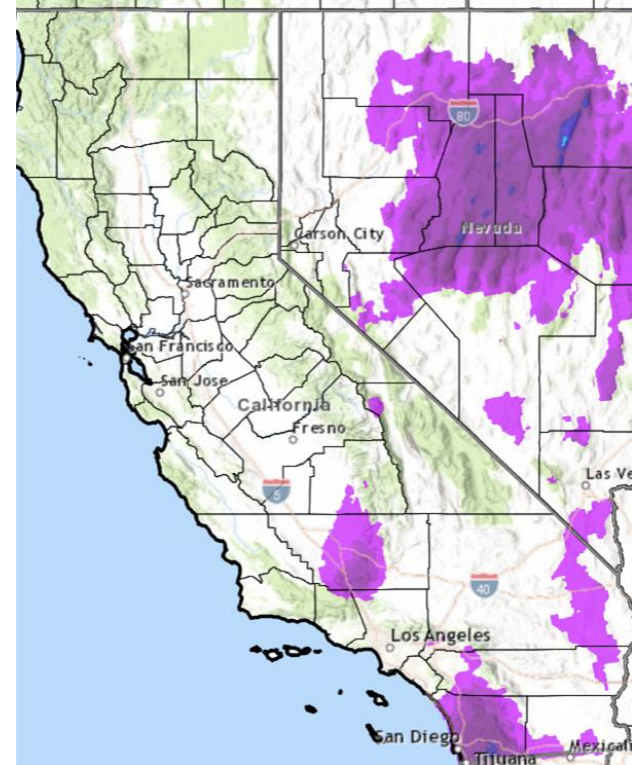

03/27/22 - 03/29/22
